

Ministry of Internal Affairs and Communications national project: “Research and development for building a global quantum cryptography communication network (3rd challenge: quantum repeater technology)”

Quantum repeater network is the foundation for quantum internet

- towards the construction of a complete quantum and absolute secure global quantum communication network -

